Click here to get an instant price quote for translation of your medical reports . Translate Now Do you need to translate a medical report for a clinical study, an insurance claim, for a second-opinion or to transfer a patient to another medical facility? We provide expert translation of medical reports from hospitals, medical clinics and physicians. We also provide translation of medical lab results such as MRI scans and blood tests. We provide medical report translation services in all languages and from any language into English. How to translate medical reports? When you need to translate a medical report, it must be done by expert medical translators who have appropriate knowledge of medicine and medical terminology. Remember that the medical report that you translate will be read by medical doctors and hospital staff. Any mistakes and inaccuracies in the translation can bring about potentially disastrous results. That's why you should select a translation agency that has proven experience in translation of medical reports. We provide certified translation of any medical report into English and over 70 other languages GTS is the best translation company for medical reports One of the challenges in translating medical reports is the style of language. Often written by Medical Doctors who are pressed for time (and usually tired as well), the language can be laconic at best and is often times difficult to understand. Our translators have the necessary background and are experienced at understanding the medical lingo in these reports. Some of our translators are licensed Medical Doctors in specialized fields of medicine. Most medical reports are available in non-editable PDF file format which is of poor quality, since the documents have been scanned and transmitted electronically. Our team will convert the PDF into editable file format (usually MS Word), and retain the page layout of the original document. Certified Translation of Medical Reports All of the medical reports that we translate are delivered with a signed Statement of Accuracy certificate. So if you need the translation for official purposes, it will be a certified translation that is accepted by the various authorities. Working on a deadline? We'll get you the medical report translations that you need on time, even if it means working around the clock. We medical report translate in German, French, Spanish, Italian, Russian, Arabic, Hebrew and in over 80 other languages. We provide certified translation of the following types of reports: Diagnostic reports Hospital records: invoices/bills, hospital release notes, discharge documents Medical records Cardiology reports Pathology reports Histology reports Scan results: x-ray, ultrasound, PET Scan reports, bone scans, CT scans Document translation for medical tourism GTS provides fast, effective document translation services for people that travel abroad for medical treatment. We translate medical reports from English to Arabic, from Russian to English and in most language pairs. Please note that we do not translate handwritten texts, so please do not submit price quotes for medical reports that contain handwritten texts.
